

Horton Hears a Who Talking Points

- What lessons can we learn from Horton about protecting life no matter what obstacles we face?
- How does Horton's reaction to opposition correlate with faithful pro-lifers in times of opposition?
- Discuss the parallels between Horton protecting what others can't see, but he knows is there and the pro-life struggles.
- Helping save children can be a thankless job, just like Horton's job in the beginning. However, Horton is eventually seen as a hero once the jungle sees that Who-ville is full of living beings who are worthy of life. How does this give hope to us for the future when abortion is made unthinkable?
